ABOUT

Dominic Ledda is an associate attorney in our San Jose office. He earned undergraduate degrees in political science and history with minors in classical studies and classical language from Santa Clara University. He graduated from Santa Clara University School of Law in 2018 with honors and a high tech law certificate. During law school, he was the managing editor of the Santa Clara Journal of International Law and was a quarterfinalist in the internal honors moot court competition.

Dominic joined Hanna Brophy in 2019 to work on all aspects of worker's compensation. Prior to joining Hanna Brophy, Dominic worked as a judicial law clerk for the Santa Clara Superior Court in the criminal division. He also worked as a law clerk assisting 2015 Butte Fire victims.

When not working, Dominic enjoys following sports, playing golf, and spending time outdoors with his family.
