ABOUT

Martin Vardanyan received his Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from the University of California, Los Angeles, and his Juris Doctor from Loyola Law School. At Loyola Law School, Martin was a member of the Loyola Law School Center for Conflict Resolution, the Armenian Bar Association ,the Armenian Law Student Association, the Public Interest Law Society, and the Business Law Society.

Before joining the firm, Martin worked at a renowned workers’ compensation law firm aggressively advocating for his clients, who varied from small-scale businesses to nation-wide corporations, where he would draft opening reports with detailed claim analyses, claim valuations, and plans of action. Martin has also made appearances for depositions, expedited hearings, priority conferences, status conferences, mandatory settlement conferences, and trials.

In Martin’s free time, he is an avid and adventurous “foodie” and enjoys exploring new restaurants and new spots. He also enjoys boxing and going hiking.
