ABOUT

Yaniv earned his undergraduate degree in History from UCLA in 2009. He then went on to earn his Juris Doctorate degree from UC Davis Law School in 2012. Yaniv gained experience in civil litigation and criminal law after law school, and then found his niche in workers' compensation. Yaniv originally joined Hanna Brophy in 2015 and has been practicing workers' compensation defense since then. He defends workers' compensation claims for insurance carriers, self-insured employers and governmental entities. In his free time, Yaniv enjoys spending time with friends and family, traveling, hiking, and playing basketball.
